YIKESITE CAPSTONE TEAM

PROJECT The goal of our project is to allow any user to build great looking websites in a simple, intuitive interface.

CLIENT Animikii Inc. provides its clients with website design and web application development. The company is based in Victoria, British Columbia, and has clients across North America. It was founded by Jeff Ward in 2003.

YikeSite is a hosted content management system which allows anyone with basic word processing skills to quickly and easily update a web site.

TEAM

Keir Bertram

Keir is a technologist with a background in business. His interest in software development lead him to persue computer science as a field of study.

Mat Harvard

Mat is a programmer with an interest in web application development. He's been working with Animikii Inc. on YikeSite since 2009.